ABE MIDDLETON TO THE RESCUE

AT REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS.

The Negro Politician Will Assist Chairman Holton in Conducting the Campaign Against White Supremacy -- He Came Unannounced, But Was Greeted With Joy.

Republican State Chairman Holton has engaged a distinguished assistant in the campaign against white supremacy in the person of Abe R. Middleton, colored, one of the most beloved and influential Republicans in North Carolina. He arrived Saturday evening and entered on his duties at Republican headquarters this morning.

Abe wields a power of influence in the party of which he is one of the leaders, and down in the Third Congressional District, where he resides, he is looked upon as a sort of demigod. So complete is his domination of the Republican party in that section that it has been asserted that he carried the district in his vest pocket.

Often, in times of dire distress, white-skinned Republicans have turned to the ebony-hued demigod in the Third District, and Abe has never failed to stretch forth the hand of brotherhood and render such assistance as was in his power. Of course he was rewarded for his self-sacrifice and party fealty. In addition to occupying a high seat in the councils of the party, he has been given offices of remuneration. When the fusion element captured the Legislature in 1895 he was made assistant door-keeper of the House of Representatives, and in a right lordly manner did he guard the way of ingress and egress to and from the lower house of the General Assembly. It is a matter of history how, on one occasion when the fusionists were exceedingly anxious to rush some legislation through, Abe attempted to arrest two Democratic members of the body to prevent a quorum being broken. He would have laid violent hands on the Democrats and forced them to remain in the hall of the House. When the same crowd went back to Raleigh in 1897 to legislate Abe's services were remembered and he was again made assistant door-keeper of the House of Representatives.

In addition to these honors, Abe was for a while a member of the Republican State Executive Committee at large, being displaced only at the late State convention of that party. It was probably to provide for a more general distribution of honors that he was left off the State committee and given an important position with Chairman Holton at headquarters.

It is not stated what part of the campaign work Abe will direct, though it is probable that to him will be intrusted the work of writing and sending out literature to prove that there has never been negro domination in North Carolina, and that there is now no danger of such a condition.

When Abe is at home his postoffice address is Kenansville, Duplin county, N. C. At present his friends are addressing him in care of Republican headquarters, Greensboro, N. C.

TO THE BUSINESS MEN OF THE CITY.

A Call to Meet at the McAdoo to Consider the Matter of Holding a Fruit Fair.

By authority of Mr. J. Van Lindley, president of the State Horticultural Society, the business men of Greensboro are called to meet at the McAdoo House on Wednesday, May 30th, at 4 p. m. to consider the matter of holding a fruit fair in this city in August. The ladies are cordially invited to attend this meeting and offer suggestions in making up the program of fair week.

Mr. Smith has kindly offered the Banner Warehouse for the fair.

THOS. L. BROWN,
May 28th. Secretary.

S. A. L. Celebration in Richmond.

Several persons in Greensboro have received handsome invitations and free transportation, with the compliments of President John Skelton Williams, to attend the celebration of the completion of the Seaboard Air-Line's connection between Tampa and New York. The exercises of the celebration will occur in Richmond next Saturday.

Mr. Lee H. Battle, cashier of the City National Bank, is among those from Greensboro who will attend.

BAD WORK OF THE BOXERS.

Tearing up Railroads--Five Hundred Christian Refugees in the French Cathedral at Pekin.

By Wire to the Telegram

Tien Tsin, May 28--The Boxers burned Lin Lino station twenty-nine miles from Pekin yesterday and murdered the Chinese employees of the railroad company. It is rumored that the Boxers are marching on Pekin. Five hundred Christians have taken refuge in the French Cathedral at Pekin.

The track of the railroad was also torn up. The relief train is carrying refugees to Pekin.

The United States cruiser Newark and a French man-of-war have arrived at Taku.

Fifty Workmen Covered Up.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Southampton, May 28--The concrete piles of a new cold storage warehouse fell this morning at Southampton, pulling down the structure and burying fifty workmen. Several were killed, others fatally mangled, and many are still missing.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS TODAY.

In a fire in the Calumet-Heclo mine at Houghton, Mich., this morning all the miners were compelled to flee. One perished and others are not expected to live.

It is reported at Capetown that General French has entered Johannesburg. The report has created much excitement in London.

A severe electrical storm occurred in Chicago last night. One girl was killed by lightning, one man drowned, and two others injured.

Symour, Johnson & Co. failed this morning. The failure was regarded as a small one and had no effect on the market.

FINE OBSERVATIONS TAKEN.

At Most of the Points the Work Was Highly Satisfactory and Will Add Much to the Sum of Sun-knowledge--Fine Photographs Being Developed.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Wadesboro, May 28--The eclipse was viewed here this morning without clouds. The observers unite in pronouncing the conditions perfect.

M'KINLEY SEES IT.

Fortress Monroe, May 28--Thousands watched the perfect eclipse, President McKinley thoroughly enjoyed the spectacle.

GRAND SUCCESS IN GEORGIA.

Thomaston, Ga., May 28--It was perfectly clear this morning and the eclipse observations were perfectly successful in every way. The whole range of the phenomena was covered. The observers have since secured magnificent results. Many valuable negatives are now being developed. The man in charge of the spectroscopes says he will be able to add much valuable data to text books from the observations today.

AT OTHER PLACES.

The eclipse was not seen in Chicago. At Port Jervis, N. Y., the roosters all over the village crowed vigorously while the obscuration lasted.

Stores were lighted in Boston. The darkness was noticeable, but brief.

The weather bureau at Washington reports that fair weather prevailed all along the line of totality.

AT GREENSBORO.

The smoked glasses were in every hand this morning. The whole face of the sun, with the exception of a small rim, was obscured. The phenomena lasted from beginning to end perhaps an hour and a half.

In a Precarious Condition.

The condition of Mr. W. L. Enoch, of Stokesdale, who suffered a stroke of paralysis in this city Friday, is critical in the extreme. After the stroke he was carried to the home of Mrs. Fagan, on North Greene street, where he is receiving the proper attention. Since the stroke he has neither moved nor spoken, and his death is expected at any time. He is being attended by members of his family.

IS NOT A POLITICAL ISSUE.

PEOPLE DON'T WANT IT MIXED UP.

Prof. Holt Says That There Was Assurance by the Chairmen of Both Parties That the Dispensary Should be Given a Trial. Outside of a Few Exceptions the People Do Not Care a Snap for the Local Fight. Plans of Compromise Proposed.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

Referring to your editorial in the Telegram of Saturday, I wish to say that I have never publicly expressed myself on the dispensary situation in Greensboro. So far as I am able to learn nobody in the country really cares to be mixed up in the fight that has been on in Greensboro. At the beginning many people, on the assurance by both chairmen of the executive committees of the dominant parties that there was no political advantage to be taken of the efforts put forth, that both parties were adding in securing a dispensary, favored giving the system a trial.

After much bitter feeling had been engendered and there was talk that the Republicans, notwithstanding the pledges of the party through their chairman, would endeavor to make political capital out of it, a thing which no honorable Republican would, many of us felt that the more conservative element of each wing of the party should meet and agree upon a plan to keep the issue out of both municipal and county politics. How this is to be done I confess I do not know. I do not like the plan proposed, but shall favor it unless a better can be devised.

1st. The territory outside of the district affected should not be asked to vote on it, because we have never been called upon to say whether Greensboro should have saloons, prohibition or the dispensary. It is a local matter entirely, in which the people outside, with a few exceptions, do not care a snap.

2d. We ought not to be asked to go into another campaign so soon as February after having one in August and another in November.

3d. In view of the fact that the Democratic party is pledged to remove the illiterate negro vote from active participation in the affairs of the State it can not consistently ask that this issue be decided by that vote in part.

There are two ways by which this matter can be settled:

(a) Let the conservative men of both wings of the party get together and honestly (making concessions) devise a way to meet this difficulty and submit the same to the county convention as the plan agreed upon by the Greensboro Democracy, or

(b) Pass a resolution in the convention binding the representatives nominated, if elected, to introduce a bill limiting the life of the dispensary to July 1, 1901, unless prior to that time on a petition of one-fifth of the qualified voters of the county or district affected an election shall authorize a continuation of the same.

The dispensary may be a good thing or it may not be. But it is certain that no amount of good it can do will compensate for the bitter feeling it has engendered in the minds of otherwise good and honorable citizens on both sides of the question.

No man, regardless of his opinion on this question, can afford to have the county lost to Democracy with the possible loss of a United States Senator or Senators just for the sake of seeing his particular ideas endorsed. It is all very silly, and nobody knows this better than those engaged in the controversy, but each side seems unwilling to yield or to concede anything.

We must stop this foolishness over minor things for the sake of the larger issue of this year.

J. ALLEN HOLT.

Oak Ridge, May 26.

James J. Coogan, president of the borough of Manhattan and a leader of Tammany Hall, Saturday contributed $100,000 to the Democratic national committee with the stipulation that the gift be rescinded if Wm. J. Bryan is not renominated. The committee will be allowed to make such use of this fund as it may see fit.

Mr. J. L. Odell, of Bessemer City, who was murdered Friday evening, was insured in the Travelers' Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., for $4,000.

REGISTRARS APPOINTED.

Registration Books to be Open Twenty Days.

The County Election Board met Saturday afternoon and appointed the following registrars for the various voting precincts of the county for the August election. The registration books will be kept open for a period of 20 days, Sundays excepted, preceding the second Saturday before the election, which will be held on the first Thursday in August. The new election law provides for an entire new registration of all voters:

CONCERNING THE MARKET HOUSE.

The Bond Bill in No Way Prohibits the Board From Repairing the Old Market House and Making It Attractive, Mr. McAdoo Thinks--The Experience of Other Towns.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

It would seem from the article in Saturday's Record, commenting on the petition which is being circulated concerning the city hall and market house, that it is a very unnecessary, foolish one. Now our aldermen have doubtless thoroughly debated this question, but these twelve gentlemen represent the interests of over twelve thousand people, and their opinions ought to be occasionally respected in the expenditure of the city's money.

Our bond bill in no way prohibits the board from improving the old market house, which could be made as handsome as any in the State for a sum not exceeding $2,000, and putting stores or offices in the city hall, which would add greatly to its attractiveness as a public building, and in the course of time bring considerably more revenue to the city by keeping the market house separate.

Personally, the writer would like to see the market house moved from the vicinity of the "meadow," as it has in no way improved its former reputation as the "tenderloin district," but Raleigh, Winston and Asheville have experimented with this question and are all disgusted with the arrangements and trying in every way to make a change.

If we are going to spend our money, we should put up a building that will be a credit to the city for all time to come. This question certainly ought to be reconsidered by our new board before they proceed further.

For the Amendment,

C. N. MCADOO.

Miss Coleman to Wed Mr. Coleman.

A marriage that will interest many Greensboro people is that of Miss Evelyn Coleman to Mr. Will Coleman, of South Carolina, which will take place on June the 9th at "Warsaw," the country home of the bride's mother, near Asheville. Miss Coleman's early childhood was spent here, and later she returned as a student at the Normal. The combined attraction of a cultured mind and rare personal beauty have made Miss Coleman a favorite wherever she is known.

MUSCLE GIVING WAY TO BRAIN.

DR. McIVER WAS TWICE SURPRISED.

Observations of a Visit to the Railroad Shops at Spencer Where Machinery Has Superseded Man--A Graduating Class Contributes $1,000 to a Building Fund--A Remarkable Educator.

"I left Greensboro for Concord the other day on a local freight, something I will never do again if I can prevent it," said Dr. Charles D. McIver, who returned Saturday from a tour of commencement addresses. "However, the trip on the slow freight was not so bad after all, as it gave me an opportunity of visiting an enterprise the magnitude of which I had not dreamed. At Spencer we were delayed two hours, and to while away the time, I went through the Southern Railway Company's shops, where a large number of machinists, engineers, carpenters, laborers and others are employed. The extent and amount of work done here was a revelation to me. The rapidity with which repair work is executed and articles manufactured was also a surprise. For instance a giant locomotive and several cars are almost demolished in a week. They are hauled to Spencer, and after a few days at most, are again assisting in carrying on the commerce of the country. This is made possible only by the use of improved labor-saving and time-saving machinery, directed by intelligent, skilled labor. Were this work to be done by hand, the mammoth shop buildings would not contain room for the required number of laborers. I was more than ever impressed with the fact that, in a large measure, machinery has superseded man, and that muscle is fast giving way to brain. The day of acquiring wealth by grim determination and muscular force has passed.

"The men I saw at work in the shops were intelligent and skilled, the majority of them having been fitted by education for their trade. The first man I met had been a classmate of mine at the University--a bright studious young fellow of a mechanical turn of mind. In others I recognized students of various schools and colleges I have visited within the past few years.

"An immense amount of money is invested in the plant at Spencer, and I was told the monthly payroll represents a fortune."

"Another surprise on this trip," continued Dr. McIver, "awaited me at Red Springs Female Seminary, where I had the pleasure and honor of delivering the commencement address. The institution is conducted under the auspices of Fayetteville Presbytery and is loyally supported by the people of that section. I was there a few years ago, when the corner-stone of the first building was laid, and I was surprised to learn on my return that, in addition to completing and furnishing this and other buildings, a movement was on foot for the erection by the alumnae and friends of the institution of a large brick building. I spoke on 'The Endowment of Colleges for Women,' and after I had concluded the president of the graduating class arose and presented to the trustees $1,000 to be used in the erection of the new building. This was one of the most remarkable things I ever saw--a graduating class presenting their alma mater with a thousand dollars for a building fund. Only about $500 more was needed, and this amount was quickly raised among the audience.

"The president of this institution--Rev. C. G. Vardel--is a remarkable man. He is one man who refuses to leave his state for a greatly increased salary. Recently he was offered $5,000 a year to take charge of a school for girls in another state, and upon refusing to accept the position, he was asked to name the salary for which he would go. This he declined to do, preferring to remain in North Carolina and continue at the head of the institution over which he has presided so successfully."

Brother Andrew, of the Catholic settlement of Belmont, was killed Saturday in a very unusual way. He was standing near a saw mill on the place, when the saw, which was in motion, broke and a piece of it struck and killed him almost instantly.

PLANNED TO DIE TOGETHER.WOMAN'S DEAD, MAN LOST HIS NERVE

They Agreed to Meet in Heaven or Elsewhere, and the Woman Died by Chloroform and Man was Taken by the Police. Syracuse Dispatch, New York Sun.

Ernest Hecht, an Austrian by birth, about 36 years old, killed Mrs. Louise Foster in her rooms in the Collins Block, Genesee street, at about midnight last night by administering chloroform, and then made a feeble attempt at suicide. This failing, he sat by her body all night until discovered today and turned over to the police.

Hecht and Mrs. Foster had planned to die together. The woman had known Hecht only two months. Her husband was serving a term at Elmira Reformatory on her complaint, having maltreated her and had obtained possession of a portion of her property through forgery. He was about to be released and she dreaded his return to Syracuse. She had met Hecht and he had become infatuated with her. Yesterday, she wrote him the following letter:

"My Sweetheart: This is my first and last love letter to you. When you arrive tonight I will be ready for you. I will be all your own until you are ready to keep your promise. I will ask but one thing of you. Do it well and quickly, and if there is a hereafter I will wait for you. We will go hand and hand to meet whatever the beyond holds for us. My darling, you thought me cruel, but I was kind. If I had done as you wished it would have been so much harder to have given it all up. I do not suffer. I have died a hundred deaths today, but I am tired of the struggle. Fate is stronger than I. Take me in your arms; hold me close to your warm, loving heart until mine grows cold. Let your love be the last thing that I will realize in this world, so that I can take it with me into the next; your lips take my last breath only to give it back when we meet again, for meet we certainly will, be it in heaven or hell. I will go where you go. I will write no more for now, as words are but empty sounds. Be brave, for I will. Destroy this letter, for we must have nothing behind for the world to gloat over. My darling, I kiss you."

They had discussed suicide before. When Hecht received the letter he determined to accept the terms and went to the woman's room with a bottle of chloroform and a revolver. At about midnight Mrs. Foster lay on the bed dressed for her death with a large red rose, which Hecht had brought, on her bosom. Hecht saturated her lace handkerchief with chloroform and pressed it to her face until she became unconscious. When she died Hecht turned coward and could not not die by the same means. Mrs. Foster was addicted to morphine, and Hecht swallowed a number of the morphine pills which sickened but did not kill him. Then he took out his revolver, and when found in the morning, with his head in his hands beside the bed of the dead woman, one hand clutched the weapon. When put under arrest Hecht confessed.

"I did what she wished, but not all," he said, "I couldn't do it. I hadn't the nerve. We agreed to die. We were to die together. I killed her. I gave her chloroform. My nerve failed me. I was to kill myself, but my nerve failed me. I tried to kill myself but I couldn't. The letters explain it. The letters tell it all. And the letters were never to be seen. They were to be destroyed. And there they are. They tell it."

The second of the letters referred to by Hecht was written by him in German to his brother Leo, in Austria. It reads:

"Syracuse, N. Y., May 24.
"Dear Leo: Notify the rest of the family that after long deliberation I have come to the conclusion that I would be better off dead than living and therefore die in the arms of the only woman I have ever loved. Forgive me all, for I am tired of the struggle for existence. Live happy and blessed for all time. ERNEST."

"Break the news to mother as gently as possible. I now go to that bourne from which no traveler returns."

Hecht made no resistance when taken into custody. He expects to die, but says he had not the courage to take his own life.

Mrs. Foster was about 27 years old. Her home was in Rochester and she has no relatives living in this city. She came to Syracuse about three years ago with her husband, Charles H. Foster, who is said by the police to have been a worthless fellow and was sent to the Elmira reformatory about eight months ago for stealing his wife's diamonds and pawning them. Since then Mrs. Foster has lived in the Collins block. She always seemed well supplied with money and her rooms were well furnished.

competent, careful painstaking and pain saving attention, if they need any. The lids of the human eye, in the discharge of their natural functions, open and close no less than ten million times each year. We need only to observe present day eyes, to be positive, many poor abused ones are working overtime. The possessors are so careless of this priceless organ that they allow it to go, day after day, year after year, ignoring innumerable warnings which tired nature so kindly vouchsafes. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Field, of Charlotte, were here yesterday.

Hugh W. Lewis came up from Greensboro, Sunday morning and spent most of the day at home.

Dr. Pearson, of Carlton College, Minnesota, who is at Pinehurst to observe the eclipse, will lecture in the M. E. Church tomorrow (Tuesday) night on "Vitalism of America." Admission free and all are cordially invited to be present to hear this distinguished speaker.

A man selling electric belts, medicine, jewelry, and other articles, held forth on the street Saturday evening and at night. He was a "slick duck" and succeeded in relieving the crowd of "succors" of about $100 in cool cash. The "slick tongued professor" talked the money out of them. How long will the people continue to bite at such bait?

A mass meeting of all the churches was held at the Methodist house of worship last night in the interest of the India famine fund. The meeting was of good results.

Mr. Elliott and Miss Alice Hoffman, of Thomasville, were here yesterday afternoon.

Quite an amusing trial took place Saturday afternoon. Three little boys were arraigned for taking some money from a man that works at one of the factories. Each one had invested his money judiciously when the theft was made known. One had bought a goat and wagon, another went off for a pleasure trip and the remaining one had spent his money as he thought best. It seems from their testimony that the money wasn't evenly divided among them. Their statements were conflicting and each in turn "turned State evidence." The trial all the way through was very amusing. The little criminals were turned loose on the agreement of their parents to reimburse the man from whom the money was taken.

Hon. William Pugh Ragan of High Point, went to Hoyle, Randolph county, Saturday afternoon to address the people on the constitutional amendment. The boys say that Will was somewhat disappointed on reaching the place to find that the ones he went to speak to were not there and he is afraid the seed sown fell on barren ground.

AN ANCIENT BELIEF.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of static or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demoniac enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

Bare feet are almost preferable to some shoes. The kind that it is necessary to break in generally make a man break out and say things. We had made purposely for comfort a lot of men's fine kid shoes in lace and congress. The prices are right.

SPAIN'S GREATEST NEED

Mr. R. P. Olvia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest blood and nerve remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50c. Sold by C. E. Holton Druggist.

"I had stomach trouble twenty years and gave up hope of being cured till I began to use Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has done me so much good I call it the savior of my life," writes W. R. Wilkinson, Albany, Tenn. It digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

EDITOR'S AWFUL PLIGHT

F. M. Higgins, Editor Seneca, (Ill.), News, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy helped until he tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes that two boxes wholly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton Druggist.

I WISH TO INFORM YOU that I have moved my shoe shop to No. 206 South Davie street, between John J. Phoenix and C. A. Clapp stores, opposite the market house, where I will do first class work using only the best stock and save you ten per cent in price. L. B. Albertson.

A PLEASURE AND A DUTY.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.---J. W. Lynch, Dor, W. Va. This remedy is sold by C. E. Holton, Druggist.

GOOD PLUMBING

Costs less than poor and unsanitary work.

It may cost a little more at first to have us do your work as it should be done, but you will save the second installment which is so often paid to the "doctor" when work is not properly done. Let us do your plumbing and it will be done right, and the price will be as low as consistent with good work.

THE VACANT CHAIR.

When the little family circle is broken and we sit sadly looking upon the vacant chair, we think of the things that perhaps we might have done to keep the loved one with us. Why not think of these things now before it is too late? Is it a kind, loving and hard-working mother who is giving all her strength and efforts for the family well-being and happiness? Is it a delicate, fragile sister; or a weak and ailing wife? Try to give her the tender care she needs. Do not let her fade away for want of earnest effort to preserve and restore her.

An Ohio lady, Mrs. Shophire, living in Ballou, Shelby Co., in a thoughtful letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "My mother had an ovarian tumor which we thought would result in her death, but we commenced using your 'Favorite Prescription,' and before she had taken three bottles she began to improve; she is living to-day and we have given your medicine the credit. My mother was sixty-six years old when the tumor commenced to grow; she is seventy-six now and the tumor is all gone. She had gotten awful large, and her limbs began to swell before she began to use your medicine. I value it so much that I am hardly ever out of it in my house."

This is but one of many thousands of instances in which this matchless "Prescription" has restored such complete health and purification to the distinctly feminine organism as to dispel every possible trace of abnormal or dangerous conditions without resort to surgery or similar obnoxious methods. For every form of female weakness and disease it is the supreme specific designed for this one purpose and no other by an educated skillful physician of extraordinary experience in this particular field of practice.

LEAVE NOTHING TO NEGRO VOTES.

In view of the fact that the Democratic party is pledged to remove the illiterate negro vote from active participation in the affairs of the State it cannot consistently ask that this issue be decided by that vote in part—Prof. J. A. Holt, in article elsewhere in this paper.

Prof. Holt thus endorses the only reasonable position for believers in white supremacy to take on any question. We referred Saturday to the fact that a petition was being circulated asking that the Democratic convention pass a resolution, submitting a disputed question to a vote in February 1901. Now a great many persons have no doubt not thought of the fact that the amendment, though voted on this year, does not go into effect till 1902. The advocates of this resolution are thus seen to advocate submitting a question to the practical decision of a class of voters who have already been ADJUDGED UNWORTHY and whose privilege for that reason has ALREADY BEEN TAKEN from them, but who, so to speak, have yet been allowed a few days of grace. Democrats should be the last people to think of doing such a thing. The very object of the amendment is to give the white people an opportunity to settle their differences among themselves ONLY. Yet this petition proposes for the negro, as the balance of power, to vote upon a very vital question, as his last act before he ceases to vote. Let the negroes settle nothing. Leaving out the question of good or bad, as Prof. Holt suggests, it is a question for the white people to determine, in whatever way they will, but certainly for them, and them alone.

PROPOSES TO SETTLE BOERS HERE.

The New York Evening Post said Saturday afternoon:

A movement is now on foot, under the supervision of several of the large railroads of the South to induce the Boers to settle in certain sections of the South. The general prevalence of the belief that the war in the Transvaal can last but a little while longer has given an impetus to the project to encourage the settlement in some of the Southern States of those of the Boers who will not submit to reconstruction under English dominion.

It is reported in railroad circles that definite plans are being shaped to further the possible exodus of Boers to this country.

We should like to have such a class of citizens settle among us if they could make an agreement to allow the people already here a reasonable amount of liberty, and a not too stringent franchise law. They would settle the race problem of the South, no doubt, and give us an example of government without the consent of the governed.

In an editorial written in its usual brusque but sensible style, Puck, the popular humorous paper, discusses the reason why the ice trust is able to put its claws upon New York. It is, says Puck, for the sole reason that the trust, through a corrupt political organization, is able to control the docks, which, were other corporations, or even individuals, able to do the same, they would enter the field in competition and put the price down. Puck was not joking in this instance and there is much in this matter to think about.

If Mr. Claude Kitchen succeeds in getting into Congress from the Second District, which may the fates will, he and his brother Will will make a pair of very bright young Congressmen.

The organization of Boxers, which is creating trouble in China, seems to have it in the neck for anything new that comes along, especially foreigners. They are hot after railroad builders, Christians and their sympathizers. For some time it has been said that the Dowager Empress, who is altogether the ruler of the land, is in sympathy with the outlaws. The United States has notified her pig-tail majesty that she must be responsible for any outrages to Americans or their property, and our dispatches today say that the Newark has already appeared at Taku. We may think the Boxers a pretty bad set, but, as some one suggests, we have had a Know-nothing party in this country, which was for "America for Americans," which seems about what the Boxers are after—China for the Chinese, without foreign aid or influence.

WILL MAKE NO NOMINATION.

Republican Congressional Convention to Meet Here Tomorrow—Will the Nomination of a Candidate be Deferred for the Benefit of Judge Adams?

The Republican convention for the Fifth Congressional District has been called to meet in Greensboro tomorrow for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress and electing delegates to the National convention. The convention will meet in the court house at 12 o'clock and will be called to order by Postmaster Tyre Glenn, chairman of the District Executive Committee.

It is said to be the purpose of the bosses to leave off the nomination of a candidate for Congress and only elect delegates to the National convention at this time, and it is probable that this course will be pursued. In this event a Congressional candidate will be nominated after the August election.

Just why a candidate for Congress should not be nominated by the convention called for that purpose is not exactly clear to some. One reason assigned for this action is that the candidate who is thought to have a majority of votes pledged to him (Mr. J. R. Joyce, of Reidsville,) is opposed by the ring, and for this reason the nomination will be delayed for the purpose of killing him. The Joyce boom was started without the sanction, and against the wishes, of the powers that be—that is to say, Senator Pritchard, Judge Adams, Postmaster Tyre Glenn, United States Marshal Millikan (who doesn't vote in this district), and a few others.

A well known Republican, who has been approached in regard to entering the race for the nomination, when seen in this city by a Telegram man this afternoon, assigned another reason for the delay. He said that owing to Judge Adams' fondness for running for office, there was a disposition on the part of the slate-makers to postpone the nomination until after the August election in order that their defeated candidate for Governor might again make the hopeless race for Congress. This is a very plausible reason, to say the least of it.

The History of Grip.

The history of "grip," or influenza, can only be traced back, with any certainty, for 300 years. Perhaps its home is in Russia. It retains certain broad characteristics which make it recognizable even under such odd names as the "gentle correction" and the "new delight." A curious description of it under the name of "coqueluche" is found in the diary of Pierre de L'Estolle in the time of Henry III of France, as follows:

"The coqueluche at Paris, year 1580.—From the 2d day to the 8th day of June there fell sick at Paris 10,000 persons of an illness having the form of a rheum or catarrh, which they call the 'coqueluche.' This illness seizes you with a pain in the head, stomach and loins and a lassitude throughout the body, and it persecuted the whole kingdom of France while the year lasted, so that once having come hardly anybody in a town or village or house escaped.

"The best remedy the doctors found was to make the sick abstain from wine. To some they ordered bleeding and rhubarb, for others cassia, and finally they found it best to keep the sick in bed and allow them little to eat and drink. They say at Paris that of this 'coqueluche' there were dead at Rome, in less than three months, more than 10,000 persons."

Some men are never satisfied. After having their limbs broken, heads smashed, etc., they go to law and try to get further damages.—Chicago News.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

LESSONS FROM THE ECLIPSE.

A Christian's Light May be and Often is Eclipsed by Society—A Christian Can't Lead a German on Tuesday Night and Prayer Meeting on Wednesday Night. Other Church Notes.

"Lessons from the Eclipse," was the subject at Washington street church last night. A Christian is commanded to "let his light shine," but, that light can be, and often is eclipsed in many ways. In speaking of the different ways in which a Christian's light is eclipsed, Mr. Johnson said among other things:

"The one great evil, more than any other, which is eclipsing the light of individual Christians and of churches, is modern society with its sinful and enticing pleasures. Sensational preachers have sought cheap notoriety by denouncing society. This has deterred many who felt that they should 'cry aloud and spare not.' I shall say what I have to say on this subject in the fear of God, and with an earnest desire that it may be received in the same spirit. When a Christian gives himself up to the indulgence of the pleasures of society, he is hiding his light. The devotee of society and the earnest church worker breathe an entirely different atmosphere. They are so perfectly incompatible that it is impossible for a man to enjoy them both at the same time. The Christian who leads a German Tuesday night, doesn't feel inclined to lead a prayer-meeting Wednesday night, and if he did, no one would feel inclined to hear him. He who handles a pack of cards Saturday night, will not make a success of handling a family Bible before a Sunday school class Sunday morning. Whatever disqualifies a Christian for any work for his Master is a sin before God, because it is hiding his light. Many of the pleasures of society, in which God's children sometimes indulge are openly condemned by the world, and in spirit, if not in letter, are condemned by the laws of the land. A number of rough characters gather around the dispensary, and become drunk and boisterous. They are fined or sent to the road. A number of people gather at a wine supper in a fashionable home. Some of them lose the power of locomotion and have to be carried home. We say of the former, 'they were drunk and disorderly,' of the latter they were overcome by too excessive dissipation in the pleasures of the evening; but in God's sight, what is the difference? Men are gathered in a dive on an obscure street or alley engaged in a game of chance, with a small sum of money at stake. They are arrested and punished for a violation of law. In the parlor of a fashionable home a number of highly respectable people are engaged in a game of chance, where a prize instead of money is at stake. The same device is used by both parties, the same motive inspires both, viz: a desire to win. We call the one 'gambling' the other 'progressive euchre.' One appears in the mayor's court, the other in the doings of fashionable society, but in God's sight, what is the difference? I have said these things in all kindness. I know many Christian people do not stop to think how serious a matter this is, but my hope and prayer is that some who hear me tonight may be led to think, and that their lights may come out from the eclipse, and shine brightly for the glory of God.

AT FRIENDS' CHURCH.

Rev. Joseph J. Neave, of Sidney, Australia, preached in Friends' church yesterday. He is an Englishman and for twenty years had had charge of his church's mission work in Australia. He is now making a tour of the States, and is accompanied by Rev. Jno. C. Watson, who is a missionary to the Indians in Indian Territory. The latter also made a talk. Rev. Mr. Neave is a very earnest and interesting talker. His theme was the all-embracing love of God, and he spoke in simple, forcible English, and charmingly presented the great subject.

PROF. CLAXTON'S ADDRESS.

A Plea for the Education of the Children of North Carolina.

Asheville Citizen.

Yesterday at the closing exercises of the Asheville high school Mr. P. P. Claxton, professor in the State Normal College at Greensboro and editor of that most excellent periodical, the North Carolina Journal of Education, made an address that could be read and studied with profit by every citizen of the State. It was a plea for the education of the children of North Carolina; a plea for the education of all the children; for better and broader and deeper education of the future citizens of the State.

In outlining an educational policy for North Carolina he showed that the people of the State are not doing their duty to the children, to themselves and to the State. He spoke as a North Carolinian to North Carolinians of their neglect of the children of the State. He spoke as of having seen little children working in cotton factories at night—a matter of shame and disgrace to any state. What shall it profit this State to have cotton factories paying big dividends and weaving into cotton cloth the blood and brains of future citizens?

Mr. Claxton emphatically commended the plan of fewer country schools, more and better teachers, better school houses and a graded system. He says that Guilford county has 95 schools, while 36 would serve the child better and no children would have to walk more than 2-4 miles to school. What Mr. Claxton said on this subject was an endorsement of Superintendent Venable's plan of duplicate schools; an endorsement that amounts to something because Mr. Claxton has been in almost every county in North Carolina, and has studied country schools and school houses.

Lofty in tone, elegant in diction and eloquently delivered, the address is bound to carry conviction to any unbiased mind. North Carolina would be the gainer if Mr. Claxton could deliver that address in every school district in the State.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of the vestry of St. Andrew's church, May 27th, 1900, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas it has pleased an all-wise Providence to take from our midst our beloved brother and friend, therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Mr. John Richard Fitzmaurice, St. Andrew's church, Greensboro, N. C., has sustained the loss of a valuable and cherished member, and the vestry of this parish deprived of a member always wise in counsel, earnest in endeavor and zealous for the temporal and spiritual welfare of the people. Also, be it

Resolved, That the vestry of this church mourns deeply its loss, and extends to the bereaved widow the heartfelt sympathy of its members, praying that the loving saviour may comfort her heart with that peace which passeth understanding. Further

Resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed on the minutes of this vestry and that they be printed in the daily papers, and that a copy be sent to Mrs. Fitzmaurice.

WE ARE ORIGINATORS:

Not Imitators!

White Delivery Wagons have been a distinguishing mark of the Greensboro Steam Laundry for a number of years. Our customers have learned to "look out for the white wagons."

Competitors have seen fit to imitate our wagons, therefore we deem it wise to make a change.

Our wagons are now in the shop. About May 1st they will come out green, our former color. In the mean time would respectfully request our friends and patrons to BEWARE of the white laundry wagons and see to it that the right driver gets the bundle. To avoid any possible confusion, in future our wagons will be lettered.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 22.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

Large Bottles for $1.00 at Druggists.

Black Rain.

The first case of black rain which comes under review occurred at Gramstown and the surrounding district in August, 1888, and it extended over an area of no less than 360 square miles, says Chambers' Journal. Since then there have happened several showers of a similar description, but less pronounced in their sable character. Other showers of black rain have been recorded in Ireland, one of which was felt over an area of 400 square miles.

No one seems to have microscopically examined the water which fell at Gramstown, but it was noted that the liquid gradually cleared when placed in a suitable vessel, and a black precipitate fell from it. In the latter cases referred to the deposit has been carefully examined and was found to consist of microscopic organisms, which averaged about the twelve thousand five hundredth part of an inch in length, and which were identified with the same fungoid organisms that are responsible for blight in the plants which they infest and subsequently for smut, mildew and rust in wheat and barley.

The writer sums up his remarks thus: "Humidity is known to contribute largely to the copious production of fungi, and during protracted drought the regions affected thereby will remain comparatively bare of fungi, but during the seasons of frequent rainfall the production of a fungoid vegetation is largely increased."

Tommy Atkins Buys His Coffin.
When Tommy Atkins arrives in India, he has one rupee per month stop out of his pay until 15 rupees have been collected for a coffin. This 15 rupees is invested in the regimental soda water machine, and should he die the machine provides him with a coffin and buries him decently, but should he survive when he leaves India he receives back his 15 rupees and his share of the profits of soda water.—New York World.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Science. In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers. My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered, "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking especially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends."

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Maret, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes: Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk. I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if new blood was moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

The delegates to the Spinners' Convention will meet at the Academy of Music promptly at 8 o'clock this evening.

The price to the Spinners' Convention is 25 cents to all parts of the house. Seats reserved free of charge. Give the delegates a good house and help a good cause.

It was necessary to kill Dr. Ledbetter's horse Saturday night in order to end her suffering. The veterinary surgeon was unable to do anything for her broken leg.

Let everybody attend the Spinners Convention at the Academy of Music tonight. A few changes will be made in the program, which will make it even more enjoyable than on Friday night.

Quite a number went over to Danville today to join an excursion to Washington, among them being Messrs. B. E. Smith, George Banks and J. H. West, and Prof. D. B. Smith, of Winston.

A statement has been prepared and signed by nearly 200 lawyers of the State stating, that in their opinion, the proposed amendment is constitutional, and that sections 4 and 5 must stand or fall together. Those of the Greensboro bar signing the statement are: King & Kimball, Jas. T. Morehead, Chas. M. Stedman, Jno. A. Barringer, L. M. Scott, Z. V. Taylor and A. M. Scales.

G. F. C. COMMENCEMENT.

A Large Number of Visitors Will be in Attendance.

A number of visitors have arrived during the day and others will arrive this evening and tomorrow to attend the Greensboro Female College commencement. From present indications a larger crowd will be present than for several years past. An unusually interesting program has been arranged.

The exercises will begin tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, with the annual sermon by Rev. James Atkins, D. D., of Nashville, Tenn.

Tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock Col. John F. Bruton, of Wilson, will deliver an address before the Alumni Association. The following program of the alumni reunion has been announced:

Prayer.
Piano Solo, Miss Ethel Blalock, Norwood, N. C.
Address to Alumnae, Col. John F. Bruton.
Violin Solo, "Beauty's Eyes," Miss Annie Williams Pierce, Weldon, N. C.
Announcements.
Benediction.

The graduating exercises proper will be held in the college chapel Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The work of the art students will be exhibited tomorrow and Wednesday mornings.

Died This Afternoon.

A telegram received here this afternoon announced the death of Mrs. H. W. Connelly, at her home in Morganton this afternoon. The family was well known in Greensboro, having resided here until about three years ago. A daughter was a student at Greensboro Female College last year.

Mrs. Connelly was an aunt of of Mr. E. L. Sides, teller at the City National Bank. He will leave tomorrow morning to attend the funeral.

Director of Posts Bristow has appointed an inspector acting postmaster of Havana. He says that the investigation into the postal frauds is proceeding satisfactorily, but necessarily it will take some time to complete.

SETTING TIRES.

The Old Way of Shrinking Them on and the Modern Way.

The old way of putting a tire on a wheel was to shrink it on. The tire was made just a trifle smaller than the wheel and then heated, with the result of expanding it slightly. When thus heated, it was crowded down over the rim of the wheel and then cooled with water to keep it from burning the wheel and also to contract it. Cooling, it was shrunk on to bind the wheel tightly. The modern way of putting a tire on a wheel is with a hydraulic tire setting press.

By this method the tire is made just a trifle larger than the wheel, so that it will go over the rim freely. The bed of this press, upon which the wheel lies horizontally, with an opening at the center for the hub, is composed of 18 sections, radiating from the center and in shape like the spaces between the spokes of a wheel. The outer end of each section is turned upward, the turned up ends making a continuous flange, or collar, all around the bed of the press. Each one of the sections has under it a hydraulic cylinder, and the sections are all arranged to work to a common center. In use the wheel is laid on the press with the cold tire around it within that turned up collar, or flange, around the edge. When the press is set in operation, the collar, or flange, is irresistibly contracted. When it comes in contact with the tire around the wheel, it does not bring up against it, but keeps on contracting just the same, now contracting the tire as well and setting it upon the wheel, the pressure being continued until the wheel itself has been brought to the requisite degree of dishing.—New York Sun.

Photographed by Earth Light.

Everybody who loves to watch the heavenly bodies has frequently noticed, when the crescent of the new moon appears in the west, the phenomenon called "the old moon in the young one's arms." Partly embraced by the horns of the crescent is seen the whole round orb of the moon, glimmering with a pale, ashy light. The cause of the appearance is that the earth light upon that part of the moon not reached by the sunshine is sufficiently brilliant to render it faintly visible to our eyes. Successful attempts have been made, particularly in France, to photograph this phenomenon, and the pictures thus produced are very interesting.—Youth's Companion.

Legend of the Narcissus.

Daffodil is a corruption of affodilly, which is derived from Asphodelus. Its other name is narcissus, and the legend of the latter name is well known—how Narcissus, for whom a nymph died, was punished by seeing his own face in a pool of water and becoming so infatuated with it that he was spell-bound to the spot till he pined away and died and was changed into the flower that bears his name today.
